

THE UNIVERSITY OF QUEENSLAND
AUSTRALIA

ALAA 2025 Conference

Navigating Tradition and Change

2 - 4 July 2025

The University of Queensland Law School

With thanks to our sponsors

Program at a glance

Wed 2 July

9.30AM - 1.30PM

Registration open

1.30PM - 3PM

ECA session

3PM - 3.30PM

Afternoon tea

3.30PM - 5PM

ECA session

5PM - 7PM

Welcome reception

Thu 3 July

8AM

Registration open

8.45AM - 9AM

Opening address

9AM - 10.15AM

Plenary session

10.15AM - 10.45AM

Morning tea break

10.45AM - 12.15PM

Concurrent sessions

12.15PM - 1.30PM

Lunch break and optional tour

1.30PM - 3PM

Concurrent sessions

3PM - 3.30PM

Afternoon tea break

3.30PM - 5PM

Concurrent sessions

6.30PM - 10.30PM

Gala dinner

Fri 4 July

8.30AM - 9.15AM

Plenary session

9.15AM - 10.45AM

Concurrent sessions

10.45AM - 11.15AM

Morning tea break

11.15AM - 12.45PM

Concurrent sessions

12.45PM - 1.45PM

Lunch break

1PM - 1.45PM

ALAA AGM

1.45PM - 3PM

Concurrent sessions

3PM - 3.30PM

Afternoon tea break

3.30PM - 4.15PM

Plenary session

4.15PM - 4.30PM

Conference close

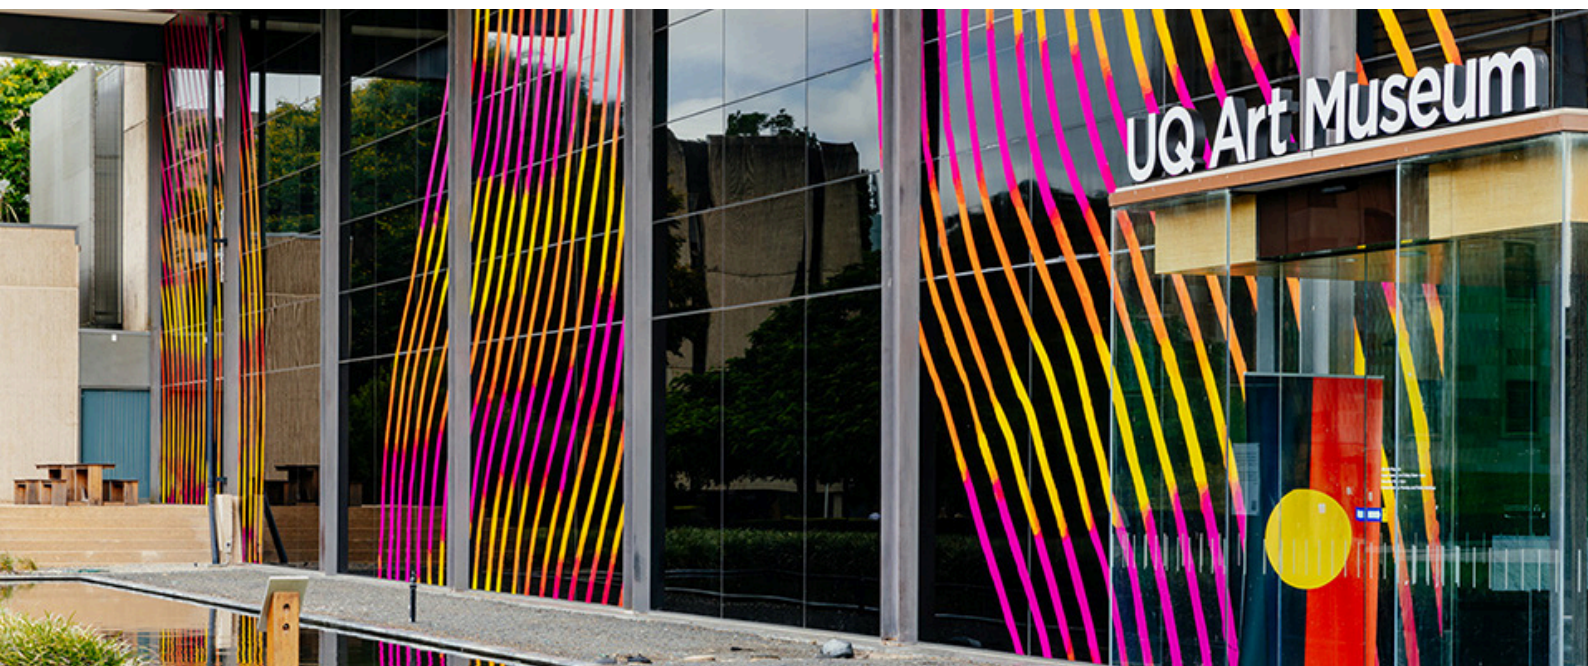

Optional walking tour

Join experts from the UQ Art Museum for a cultural mediation walking tour showcasing eight artworks across four campus locations.

All artworks are by incredible First Nations artists from the UQ Art Collection, including Rosella Namok, Teresa Baker, Hector Burton, Lily Kelly Napangardi, Gloria Petyarre, Johnny Yungut Tjupurrula and Nora Wompi Nungurrayi.

Tours will begin and end at the UQ Art Museum entrance, just outside the Law School.

Tours will be amplified with a portable PA system. The tour route will involve some light to moderate walking, will be wheelchair accessible and will include some ramps and inclines. As the tour is outdoors, please dress appropriately for the weather with hats, sunscreen, or umbrellas. Please note: this walking tour is considered easy terrain, but enclosed shoes are recommended.

Rosella Namok, Old Girls Yarning into the Night 2024. UQ Art Museum Window Commission, 2024.

ALAA 2025 program

Wednesday 2 July

9.30-1.30 Arrival and registration in level 2 foyer

Room W458

10.00-3.00 CALD Executive meeting (invitation only)

10.30-3.00 Sponsor set-up in level 2 foyer

ECA Session – sponsored by Dentons

Room W332

1.30-3.00 Collecting evidence and preparing for job applications and promotions

3.00-3.30 Afternoon tea served in the level 2 foyer

ECA Session cont.

Room W431

Room W458

3.30-5.00 Law Deans career talk: personal stories and reflections on the changing academic career

ALAA Executive meeting (invitation only)

LADRN meeting
(invitation only)

Welcome Reception

Patina Alumni Court, St Lucia campus

5.00-7.00 Networking event – included for all conference attendees

ALAA 2025 Conference

Thursday 3 July

8.00-8.45 Arrival and registration in level 2 foyer

Plenary Sessions

Room E215

8.45-9.00 Acknowledgement of Country and opening address
Prof. Rick Bigwood, Dean of Law, TC Beirne School of Law, University of Queensland

9.00-10.15 Dialogue Across the Ditch: Reflections on Indigenising Law Curricula in Australia and Aotearoa New Zealand
Prof. Khylee Quince, Auckland University of Technology, and Dr Marcelle Burns, University of Technology Sydney

10.15-10.45 Morning tea served in the level 2 foyer - sponsored by Cambridge University Press

Concurrent Sessions

Room W332

Pedagogy and curriculum engaging students

Room W349

Private law – current issues in research and education

Room W431

Recognising cultural diversity in legal education

Room W458

Embedding climate change in education and research

Upeka Perera

Catherine Robinson,
Tamara Wilkinson, Akshaya Kamalnath and Rangika Palliyaarachchi

Maxine Evers

Elen Seymour

Flexible, future-facing and fit for purpose: designing law electives in block mode

NextGen: a cross-university community of corporate law scholars

Cultural diversity of law students: reflections on the profession and the role of law school in supporting culturally diverse students

Teaching tax law in an age of climate crisis

Timnah Baker

Simone Schwoerer

Belinda Reeve

Monica Taylor

10.45-12.15

'Active' active learning: integrating embodied teaching methods with edtech in the student-centred classroom

Criminal cartel sanctions and regulatory limits: an examination of enforcement challenges

Innovating and disrupting assessment practice in law school: culturally responsive assessment practice and supporting international students

Embedding sustainability at QUT: the journey so far

Panel: Peta Spyrou, Louise Cauchi and Stephanie Falconer

Matt Berkahn

Sandra Noakes and Maria Bhatti

Jennifer McKay

Encouraging student engagement in legal education

The nature and purpose of the corporate veil

The experience of muslim law students: implications for law curricula

Solastalgia in our students in the era of contested climate change and environmental justice

ALAA 2025 Conference

Thursday 3 July

10.45-12.15	Encouraging student engagement in legal education	Alex Sims	Tracey Coleman	Thea Voogt
		What pirates can teach us about decentralisation?	What can Australian law students learn about ethnography and themselves through participating in legal study tours?	Environmentally-focused tax policy tools and the risks for Queensland beef producers
		Chathuri Gajaweera Arahchige		Francine Hug
		Reconceptualising causation in securities litigation: a critical examination of judicial approaches in Australia		Energy Transition in the Pacific: Harmonising Regulatory Fragmentation Through Multi-Discursivity
12.15-1.30	Lunch served in the level 2 foyer
UQ Art Museum		Room W426
12.30-1.30	Optional First Nations art walking tour	LEAD Network's Birds of a Feather Flock Together lunch gathering for Associate Deans Legal Education (or equivalent)
Concurrent Sessions
Room W332		Room W349	Room W431	Room W458
Pedagogy and curriculum assessment		Private law – current issues in research and education	Equity, diversity and inclusion in legal education	Embedding climate change in education and research
1.30-3.00	Victoria Lambropoulos	Gehan Gunasekara	Joanna Abraham	Nicky Jones
	Developing resilience in students through group assessments	Giving data legal personality: an antidote to surveillance capitalism?	The death of diversity? from exclusion to empowerment in legal education's response to anti-dei and anti-immigration movements	Bad smells and human rights: a human rights approach to noxious odours from industrial waste disposal
	Elizabeth Shi and Lemuel Lopez	Trish O'Sullivan	Kate Offer	Legal theory
	Court observation assessment in law courses	The duty of disclosure in consumer insurance contracts – the long road to reform in New Zealand	ADHD in legal education: accommodating, delivering and harnessing (neuro) divergence	Chantal McNaught
Complexity as a response to complexity: Thomas Nagel's fragmented values as a framework for legal ethics in practice

ALAA 2025 Conference

Thursday 3 July

1.30-3.00	Karen Abidi	Toni Collins	Aidan Ricciardo	Jonathan Crowe
	Use of an innovative peer evaluation tool in law collaborative assessment	Rebuilding trust: a new model for post-disaster dispute resolution	Trans and gender diverse students in legal education: perceptions of inclusion from Australian Law School Deans	The point of legal philosophy
	Brianna Chesser and Alyssa Sigamoney	Raul Madden	Amanda Bull and Rebecca Wright	Matt Watson
	Breaking down silos of learning: embedding practical legal skills and authentic assessments in a problem-based curriculum for belonging	Context, courage, and conscience: teaching unconscionable conduct in Australia	Engaging sessional staff to create a supportive teaching culture for diverse learners	Perspectives on 'perspectives on law': teaching legal theory in the Trumpian era
	Lisa J Bonin and Annette Greenhow	Robert Cunningham	Tracey Coleman and Lisa Cooper	Karen Schultz
	Competitive mootng as pedagogy: navigating meaningful assessment	Misleading and deceptive conduct under the Corporations Legislation	Providing reasonable adjustments in oral assessments: a case study from the law curriculum	Teaching legal theory: intellectual tools, values, motivations
3.00-3.30	Afternoon tea served in the level 2 foyer - sponsored by Lexis Nexis
Concurrent Sessions
	Room W332	Room W349	Room W431	Room W458
	Pedagogy and curriculum: skills development	Artificial intelligence - issues for assessment	Understanding and designing for a diverse student cohort	Contemporary issues in legal education
3.30-5.00	Saiful Karim	Tanjina Sharman	Barry Yau	Panel: Tim D Peters, Ilana Bolingford, Tracy Creagh and Kieran Tranter
	Integrating contemporary issues in legal education: a balanced approach for first-year foundational law courses	GPT-4 in drafting hypothetical problem scenario for contract law assessment	A decade in trajectories of a cohort of law graduates and lawyers since 2014: informing legal educators of the challenges and experiences of the shifting professional landscape	Mitigating blunt force trauma: research impact in law in 2025

ALAA 2025 Conference

Thursday 3 July

3.30-5.00	Jessica Leonard and Ross Grantham	Brandon D Stewart	Angus Gilmore	Mitigating blunt force trauma: research impact in law in 2025
	UQ's First Year Skills Program	Towards authentic generative AI assessments in litigation and dispute resolution units: a case study	The law school game: using reflexive thematic analysis to explore the influence of law school environments upon law student wellbeing
	Ken Yin	Alex Steel	Interactive workshop: Tammy Johnson
	Embedding creativity as a dedicated methodology in the legal studies curriculum	Assessment integrity chords: developing a method for assuring the integrity of legal assessment	Universal design for learning in law: making inclusion practical, possible and powerful
	Stephanie Falconer	Karina Murray
	Reflective practice in legal education: preliminary findings in conversation with law academics	Reflective practice in the age of AI: a case study
	Michael Adams	Tania Leiman and Mark Ferraretto
Contemporary issues in teaching technology: AI and engagement	Rethinking assessment design in light of AI - making more authentic links between learning and practice
Gala Dinner - sponsored by CALD
Customs House, Brisbane City
6.30-10.30	Gala dinner and presentation of the Australian Legal Education Awards Gala dinner tickets are to be purchased in addition to conference registration

ALAA 2025 Conference

Friday 4 July

Plenary Session

Room E215

8.30-9.15

Embedding climate change in the core curriculum

Prof. Nicole Graham, University of Sydney

Concurrent Sessions

Room W332

Room W349

Room W431

Room W458

Pedagogy and curriculum big picture issues

Artificial intelligence - issues for assessment

Centring First Nations
perspectives in legal education and research

Fostering ethical and social justice-oriented legal education

John Anderson and Joseph Wenta

Karnika Bansal and Thilinka Wijesinghe

Meri Oakwood

Panel: Tamara Walsh
and guests

Curriculum renewal and design in a clinical law school: the Newcastle experience

Innovating legal pedagogy: AI conversations in Blackboard as a teaching tool

First Nations truth-telling in legal education

15 years of student pro bono at UQ

Lisa DiMarco, Rachel Kessel, Marnie Brown, Gina Bekker and Claire Carroll

Noeleen McNamara

Louisa Di Bartolomeo

Guests:
Joanne Rennick
Managing Principal
and Legal Practitioner Director
MurphySchmidt
Lawyers

Team teaching for wellbeing

Bridging tradition and change: AI-driven assessment in contract law

Ngara: embedding truth-telling about the legal system in a renewed professional law curriculum

Elizabeth Aisi
Lawyer, Seniors Legal Support Service
Caxton Legal Centre

Gehan Gunasekara
and Alan Toy

Panel: Kelley Burton,
Judith Marychurch,
Bruce Baer Arnold,
Helen Gibbon,
Kate Van Dore, Helen Walsh and Erica Techera

Hannah McGlade and Margaret Stephenson

Linden Peacock
Senior Solicitor
Basic Rights
Queensland

Technology-enhanced learning: the master of information governance at the University of Auckland

'Indigenising' the curriculum and embedding indigenous legal issues and perspectives in the LLB at Curtin Law School

Phylcia Lim
Solicitor
Herbert Smith
Freehills

*Back to the past or forward to the future?
Rethinking assessment in law*

Metiria Stanton-Turei, Mihia Pirini and Yasmin Olsen

Tulli Seton
Senior Solicitor
Shine Lawyers

The politicisation of tikanga teaching

ALAA 2025 Conference

Friday 4 July

	Alex Bruce		Laura Griffin and Nerita Waight	Christina Jackson
9.15-10.45	Designing and teaching competition law curricula in the 21st Century	Back to the past or forward to the future? Rethinking assessment in law	First Nations-led change to strengthen cultural capability in the Victorian legal profession: lessons and implications for legal academics	Critical, not optional: reclaiming justice in legal education
10.45-11.15	Morning tea served in the level 2 foyer - sponsored by Thomson Reuters

Concurrent Sessions

	Room W332	Room W349	Room W431	Room W458
	Tradition and change – issues in legal research	Artificial intelligence - developing skills for legal practices sponsored by The College of Law	Centring First Nations perspectives in legal education and research	Clinical legal education and social justice orientation
	Andrew Maples and Robin Woellner	Robin Palmer	Madeleine Perrett	Sally Andersen
	Impact of technology on the burden of proof in civil proceedings	The role of AI in the workplace: implications for capstone and work-integrated learning (WIL) courses in law schools	Indigenous voices in legal research: a non-indigenous perspective	The justice bus: using legal knowledge to empower youth
11.15-12.45	Sandra Hanna	Mark Giancaspro, Lisa Cooper, Cornelia Koch, Jessica Viven-Wilksch and Anne Carter	Pacific perspectives on law, justice and legal education	Panel: Sara Kowal, Cate Banks, Sally Andersen and Emily Singh
			Unaisi Narawa
	Evaluating the definition of marriage post same-sex marriage reform in Australia	Generative artificial intelligence in legal education and practice: challenges and opportunities	Pacific law students in New Zealand: challenges and opportunities	Clinical legal education: a pathway to ethical, social justice-oriented lawyering
	David Barker	Amanda Graham, Craig Horton and Lauchlan Pevie	Brian Tom
	AustLII's 1,000th database – a history of the Australasian Legal Information Institute	Bridging theory and practice: revolutionising clinical legal interviewing skills through ai-driven simulation	Indoctrination versus legal education: aspects of the customary law course in UPNG that make it susceptible to indoctrination

ALAA 2025 Conference

11.15-12.45	Aashish Srivastava	Nicole Landy	Pamela Kenilorea	Clinical legal education: a pathway to ethical, social justice-oriented lawyering
	Navigating the Intersection of Innovation and Tradition: Electronic Signatures in U.S. Election Codes	Early practical legal training student perceptions of the integration of generative artificial intelligence in legal education	Law without justice? The non-enforcement of the Anti-Corruption Act of Solomon Islands
	Robert Cunningham	Amanda Head
	Information Governance in the Digital Age	From classroom to practice: AI innovations for authentic legal education
12.45-1.45	Lunch served in the level 2 foyer
Room E215
1.00-1.45	ALAA AGM
Concurrent Sessions
Room W332		Room W349	Room W431	Room W458
Contemporary issues in legal education and academia		Artificial intelligence	Science and technology	Ethical challenges in legal education
1.45-3.00	Pauline Collins and Carol Quadrelli	Carlo Soliman, Eti Monanu and Chris Leahy	Panel presentation: The UQ Law Science and Technology Research Group	Sara Moulds
	Academic perspectives on grade inflation in Australian universities	Descent into darkness: an analysis of the misuse of artificial intelligence and the implications for legal practice and education in Australia	Goncagul Cengiz Baris, Hamish MacDonald, Seema Soni, Sruthi Balaji and Maria Amelia Rodriguez	Ethical knowledges and legal education: what do we value and why?
	Judith Marychurch	John Hopkins		Cassandra Sharp
	Pracademia in law schools: an international community of practice	Green light for go? AI, automation and administrative law	Where law meets science: objects, claims and conflicts	Popular stories as provocateur for ethical engagement in the law school curriculum

ALAA 2025 Conference

Friday 4 July

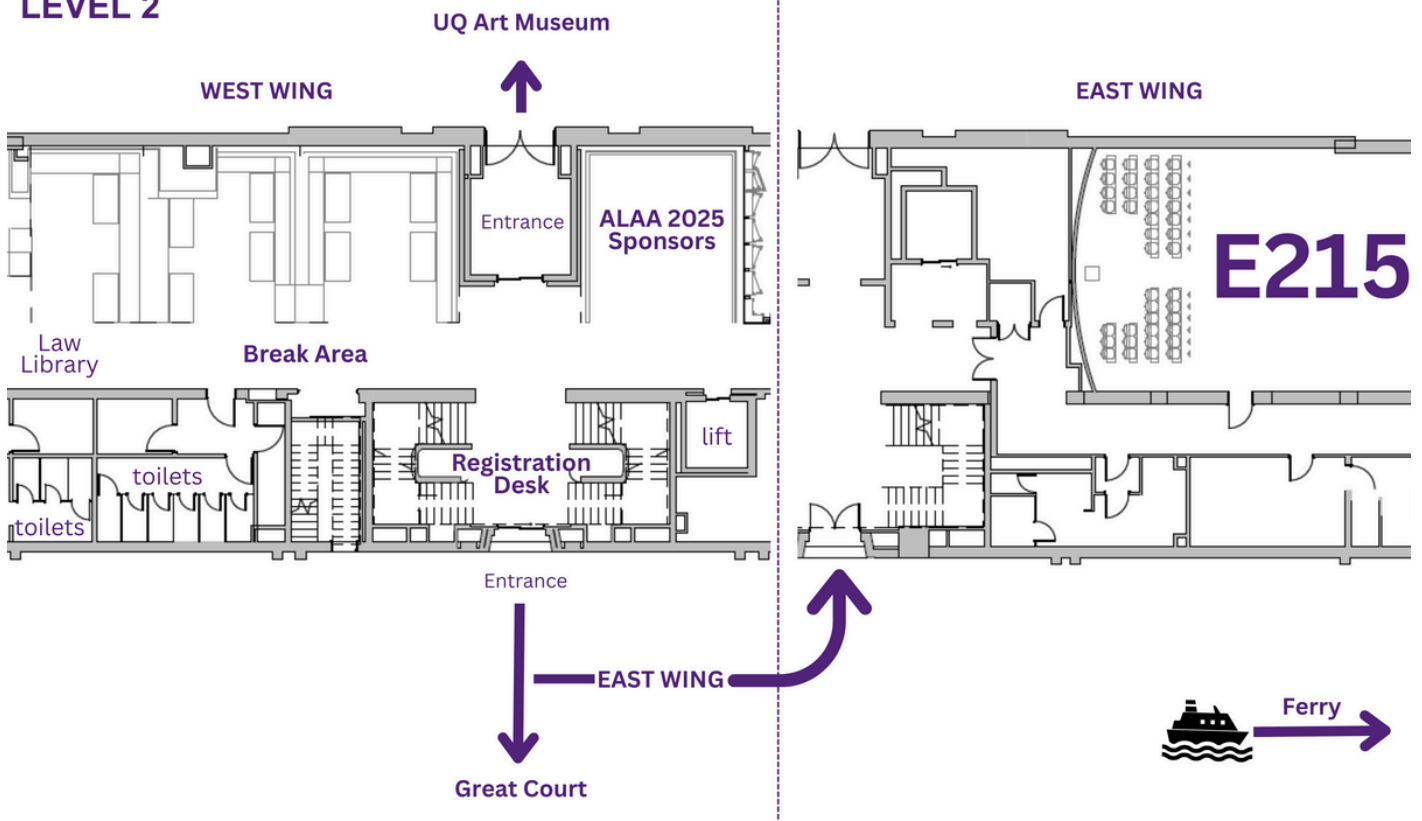

1.45-3.00	Milan Nitopi and Philippe Doyle Gray		Where law meets science: objects, claims and conflicts	Marozane Spammers
	Evidence in ‘paperless’ practice: bridging the gap between theory and practice in legal education			Bridging the gap: teaching mental health and criminal justice in New Zealand
	Charles Giacco			Jane Wangmann
	More than four-striped epaulettes and left seats: development a bigger-picture legal/regulatory context for aviation law students			Teaching about domestic and family violence in the Australian law school curricula
	Anneka Ferguson, Moira Murray, Vedna Jivan, and Pamela Taylor-Barnett			Tracey Booth, Miranda Kaye and Ghena Krayem
	From the frying pan into the fire: Students’ assumptions and trepidations about the legal profession			Perspectives on teaching distressing, challenging and sensitive content in law
3.00-3.30	Afternoon tea served in the level 2 foyer - sponsored by Oxford University Press
Plenary Session
Room E215
3.30-4.15	The role of the legal profession and academia in shaping equitable AI governance in the legal context? Ben Gouldson, Managing Director, Clifford Gouldson Lawyers
4.15-4.30	Conference close

Getting Around

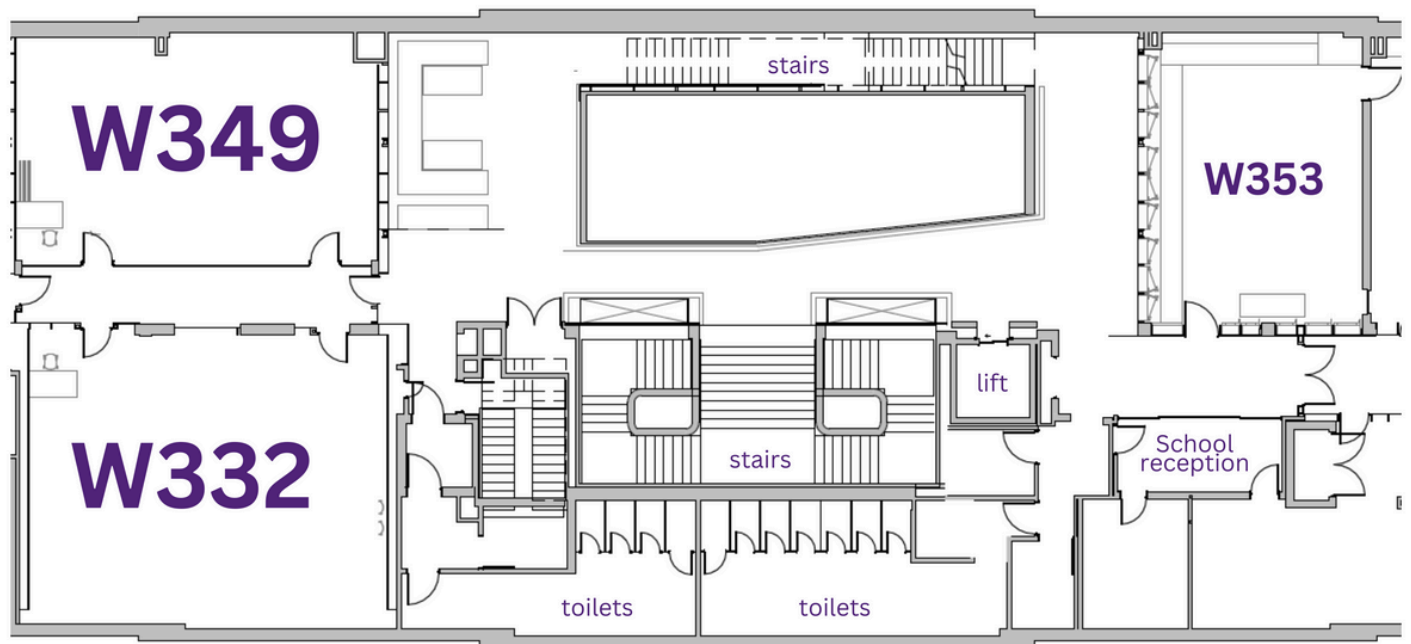

The ALAA 2025 Conference is being held in the UQ Law School on levels 2, 3 and 4 of the Forgan Smith Building.

Forgan Smith Building (01) LEVEL 2

Forgan Smith Building (01)
LEVEL 3

WEST WING

Forgan Smith Building (01)
LEVEL 4

WEST WING

Getting to UQ

Public Transport

UQ is well-served by public transport, making it easy to reach the campus.

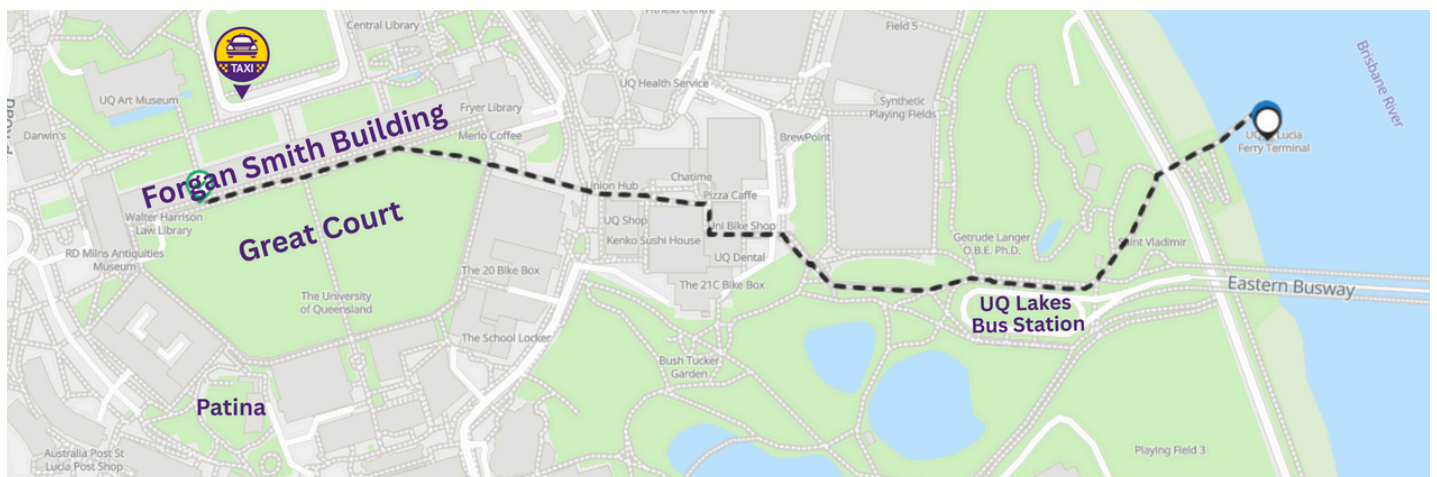

Ferry: The CityCat Ferry is a scenic option for arriving on campus. From the St Lucia Ferry Terminal, it is an easy 5-7 minute walk to the Forgan Smith Building. Please refer to the walking map below for directions.

Bus: Numerous bus routes service UQ St Lucia. Upon arrival, follow the signs to the Great Court and then to the Forgan Smith Building.

Train: The nearest train station is Toowong Station, where you can transfer to a bus to reach UQ St Lucia.

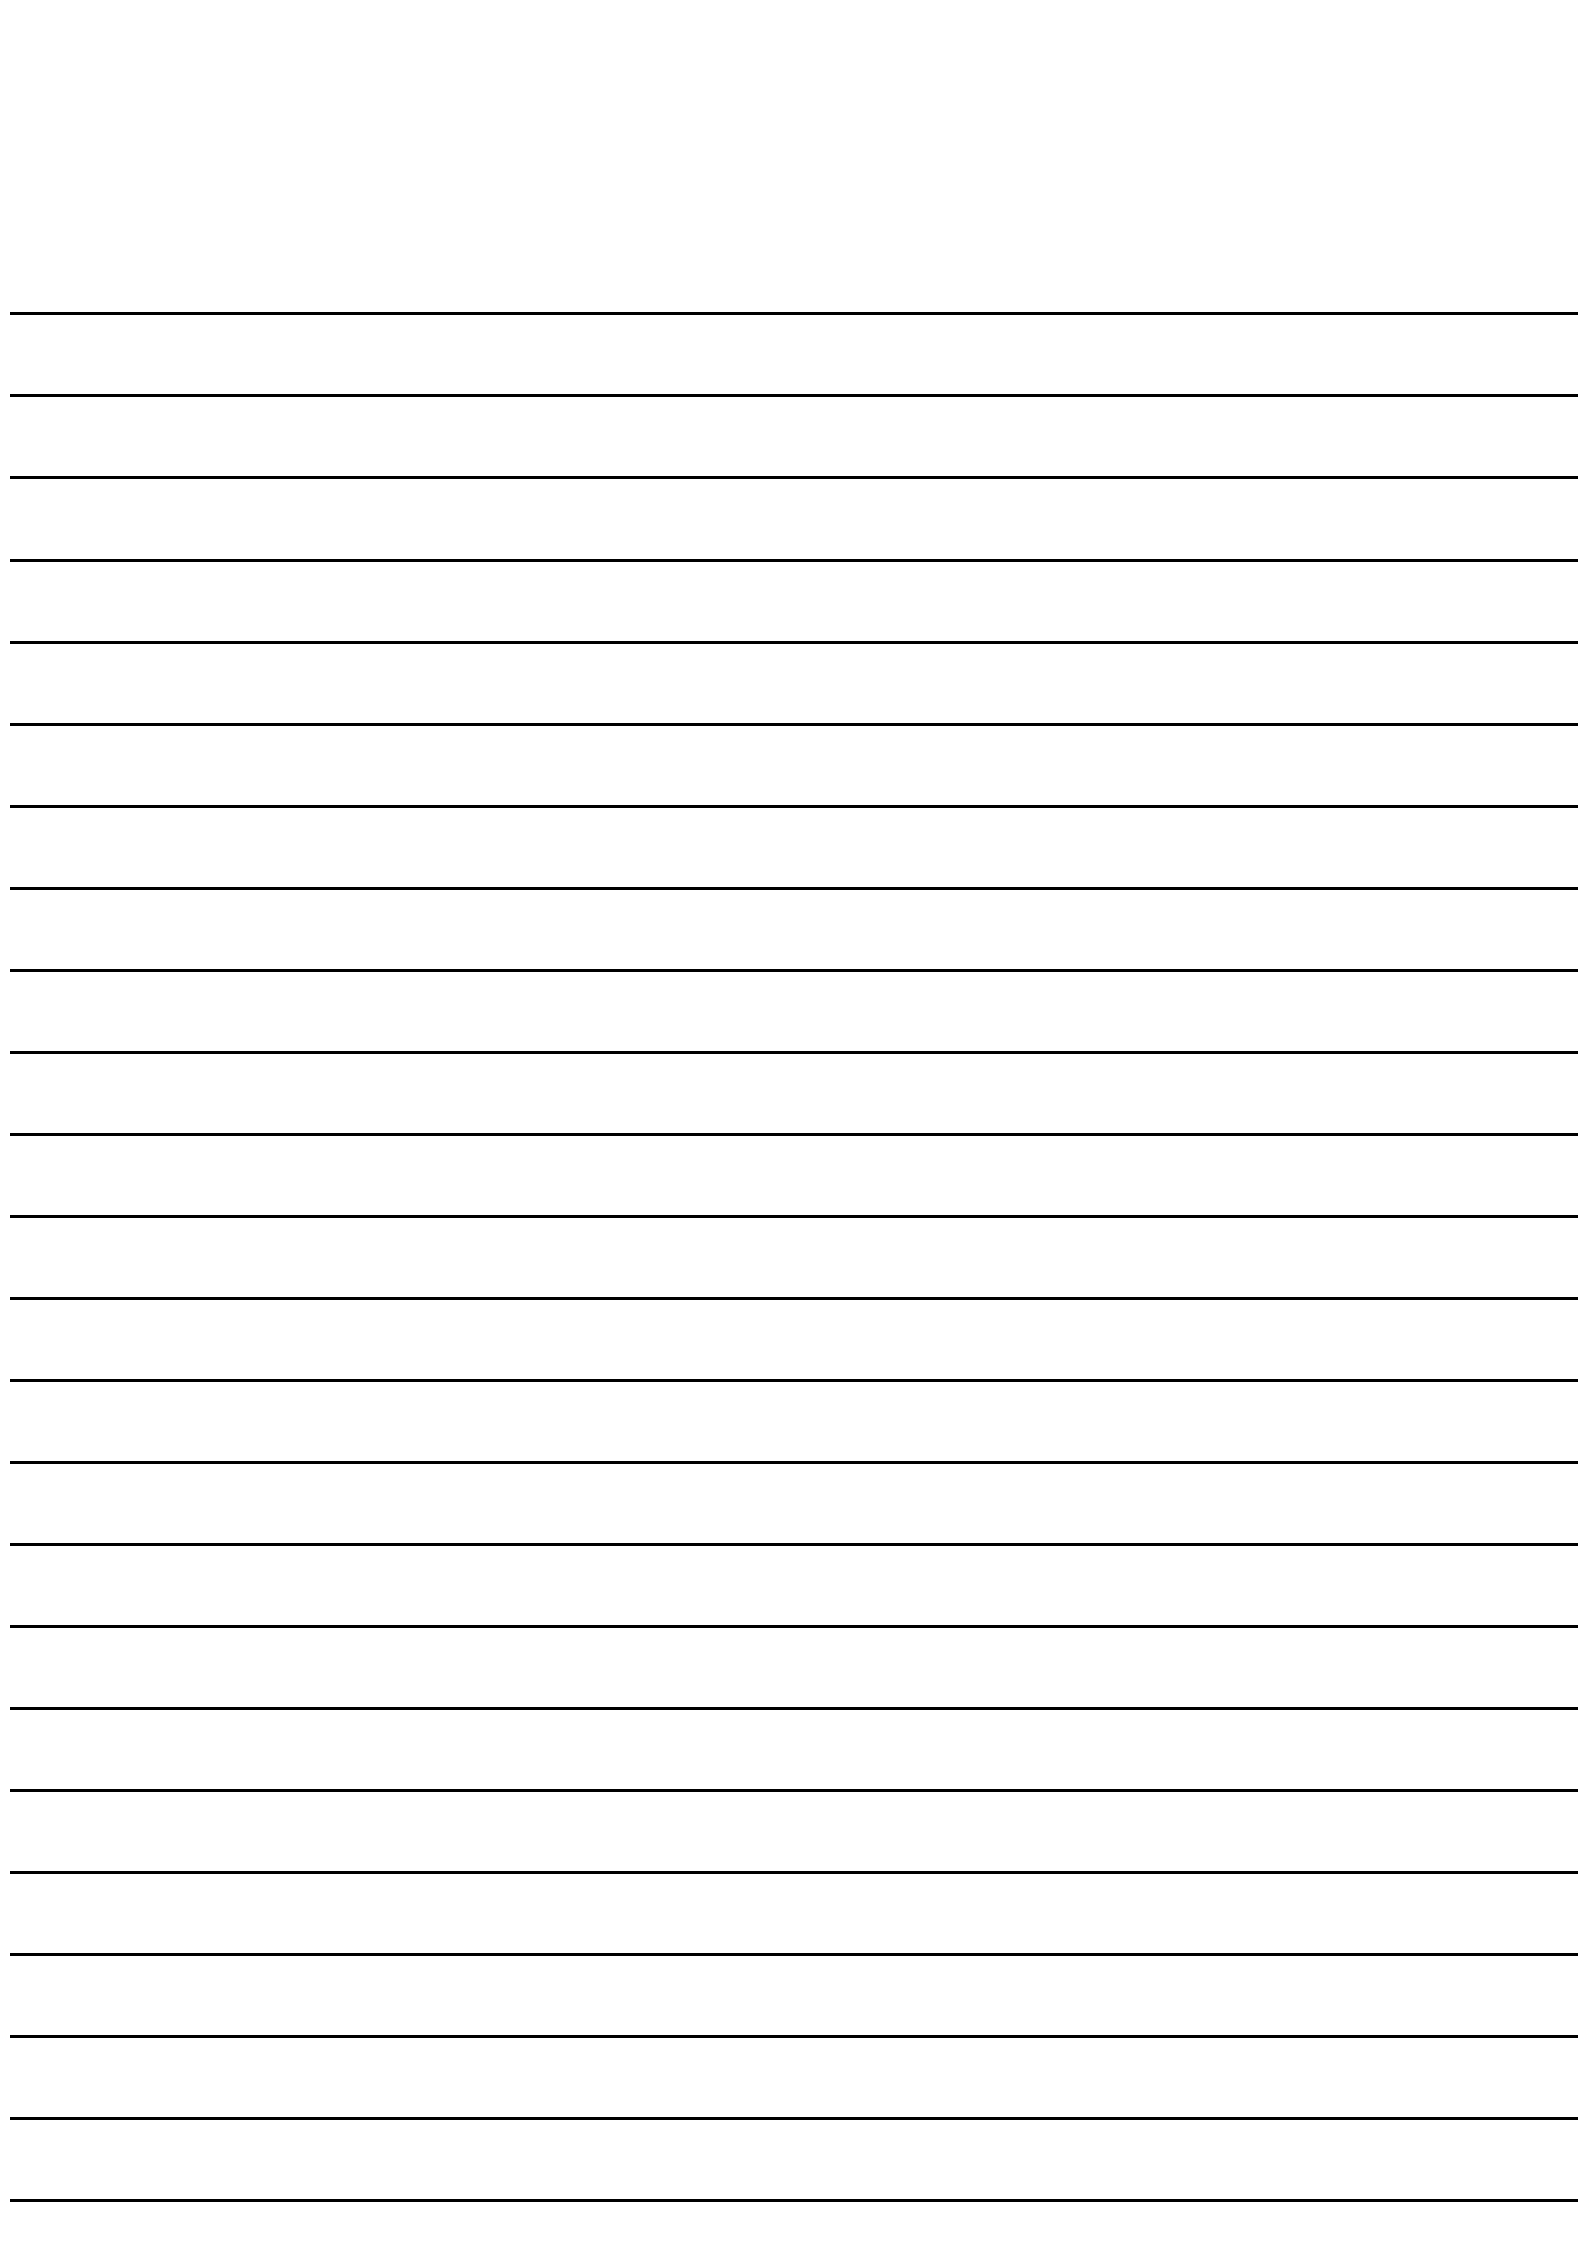

For up-to-date timetable information, visit the TransLink website:
www.translink.com.au

For those arriving by taxi or rideshare, we recommend requesting drop-off at the UQ Art Museum on University Drive. This provides the closest and most direct access to the conference venue.

Notes

www.law.uq.edu.au